

WAR VETERANS IN FRANCE MAY BE DISBANDED

Laval Yields to Leftists and Acts To Save Franco and Defend Cabinet.

PATRIOTISM APPEALED TO

Premier Will Demand Vote of Confidence for His Decree Laws To Rescue Country.

By The Associated Press
PARIS, Nov. 25.—Premier Pierre Laval today yielded to the demands of the leftists for the disbanding of the volunteer forces, such as the Croix De Feu, to save the cabinet from a vote of no confidence and to prevent a threat of overthrow.
The cabinet agreed on a proposal, pending in parliament, to appeal to the chamber of deputies for immediate discussion of Laval's financial measures.

To Ask Confidence Vote Laval's decision means Laval will ask an immediate vote of confidence for his decree laws which are intended to defend the franc against speculation and the budget deficit by imposing a heavy tax on gold, with the danger of a devaluation of the franc.

The premier will ask the chamber to take up the battle against political groups after he disposes of a bill on the suppression of civil disobedience.

The cabinet's decision to support Laval's general to disband "sedition-ary" groups was, without naming the Croix De Feu, taken in the face of warning from friends of Col.
Maurice de La Rocque, its leader, that such action would lead to a civil shock and perhaps civil war.

To Keep Peace
The new measures, not yet announced, were taken to "assure the supremacy of order in the country."

These were understood in increased circles to empower prefects and military governors to forbid gatherings if they fear disorders will break out, such as the outbreak at Angers, Nov. 17.

A clash between nationalists and leftists at Limoges, attended by hooligans, resulted in injury to 12 persons.

Prefects would be further empowered to mass sufficient police to suppress such disturbances in those circles.

Leftists, confronting political and economic difficulties simultaneously, announced he would ask public support in a radio address tonight. He let it be known his government would choose to fall rather than deprecate the franc.

Before departing today for the government's new base, the convened chamber of deputies Thursday. The leftist popular front of Radicals and Radical Socialists has threatened an attack on the cabinet, unless it survives such nationalist forces as the Croix De Feu.

Former Premier Edouard Herriot, secretary of state and leader of the dominant Radical Socialists, met with the cabinet.

He announced that if Radicals carried out their threat to overthrow the ministry, he would resign the party presidency and would refuse to serve in another cabinet.

General pessimism prevailed over the future of the Laval government. Some sources said the financial crisis, with the Bank of France attempting to stem the flood of gold from its vaults, might save the cabinet.

Opposition Increased Leftist hostility to Laval was believed to be diminishing after the bank raised its discount rate from 5 to 6 per cent yesterday and further gold losses became known.

Marcel Regnier, minister of finance, announced Wall Street was drawing much strength from New York and said London also was withdrawing some gold sent to Paris before the British election.

BRAZIL REBELS FOILED IN PLOT

Communists Thwarted in Attempt To Enlist Aid of Crack Army Regiment.

DEATHS SET AT 40 TO 60

Lieutenant of Reserves Nabbed on Charges of Trying To Incite Cavalry Revolt.

By The Associated Press
RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 25.— An alleged plot to enlist the first cavalry regiment, quartered in the heart of Rio de Janeiro in a communist rebellion against the government was thwarted today as reports from authentic sources showed a rebellion death list of from 40 to 60 men.

Capt. Lauro Fariol, detailed to the training of reserve officers, was arrested before dawn charged with attempting to incite a revolt of the cavalry unit.

Officials said he had made an effort to bring the crack mounted corps into line with the soldiers who are fighting in northeast Brazil against the government.

Says Rebels Repulsed
From the state of Pernambuco, Capt. Malvino Reis, secretary of security of the state, reported that after 22 hours of fighting the insurgents had been driven back toward Socorro, the military garrison of Recife, and that about 60 had been killed and 100 captured.

However, Socialists here in the capital who said their information came through secret channels, asserted that the rebel deaths had not been more than 40.

The government imposed a state of siege over the entire nation and dispatched two naval cruisers to combat the northeast revolt.

Authoritative advisers indicated communistic insurgents were holding their gains.

The rebels still held the strategic seaport of Natal and the nearby city of Macaehya, in the northeastern state of Rio Grande do Norte, authenticated reports said, after seizing them Sunday upon the outbreak of the revolution.

While the two cruisers weighed anchor with arms, munitions and an unannounced number of men, apparently to head down on Natal, 300 government troops made a forced march toward Macaehya in an attempt to wrest that city from the rebels.

The 60-day state of siege, approved by parliament in an emergency measure.

ELLSWORTH UNHEARD FROM IN ANTARCTIC

Lost Wireless Message to Base Ship Came Saturday; May Be Safely Encamped.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The whereabouts of Lincoln Ellsworth and his pilot, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, who left Dundee Island early Saturday to fly across the Antarctic continent, remained a mystery today.

Their last wireless report to their base ship, the Wyatt Earp, was at 10:45 a. m. (eastern time) last Saturday.

A message from the Wyatt Earp to the New York Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance said, however, that members of the expedition believed Ellsworth and his pilot were safely encamped at the Bay of Whales, former base of Admiral Richard E. Byrd.

Ellsworth was trying to reach the Bay of Whales when he started the flight. His last message reported fair weather.

Members of the expedition at the base ship expressed belief the plane had landed. They expected radio contact at any moment.

NEW LINDBERGH BILLS REPORTED FOUND IN EAST

Hauptmann Investigator Says He's Certain Ransom Funds Have Turned Up.

LISTS BOSTON, WORCESTER

Claims His Authority Is Unimpeachable and Money Continues To Come.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The chief investigator for Bruno Richard Hauptmann declared today that he had learned on "unimpeachable authority" that Lindbergh ransom bills have turned up recently in Boston and Worcester, Mass.

The department of justice in New York said "we have no information on this matter."
"I have been informed," the investigator said, "that almost $700 in Lindbergh ransom money has been received by the Boston Federal Reserve bank since Haupt-mann's arrest. It is continuing to show up. My authority is unimpeachable, despite the denials of police."

The investigator, who requested that his name be withheld, said he had recently found in a house near Ashby, Mass., a letter dated March 10, 1932, 10 days after the Lindbergh baby was kidnapped, which read, in part:

"Why don't you return that poor little Lindbergh baby? You have had it long enough."

He said the writer and recipient of the letter were known and that he would soon have "a full accounting from them."

In the same house, the investigator said, he found wood "similar" to that used in the ladder believed to have been used in gaining access to the Lindbergh nursery.

"It's the same type," he remarked, "and I'm having it examined by experts."

He cited reports that the same house yielded ransom bills as "absolutely wrong," and added "I wish I had, however."

C. Lloyd Fisher, Flemington, N. J., chief of counsel for Hauptmann, has received a copy of the report of the Massachusetts investigation, the investigator said.

Besides handwriting and wood, the investigator said, several articles used by a baby were found in the house, as well as newspaper clippings of other kidnappings, including the Lindbergh case, similar to that of the Lindbergh baby.

The investigator said that the ransom bills not traced to Hauptmann were all peculiarly folded, twice across and once down.

The investigator said that while he was not adequately versed in chirography to ascertain if the handwriting on the ransom notes was the same as that on the letter found near Ashby, he had discovered several characteristics identical in both scripts.

These, he said, were curlicues and dots that had been found at least one handwriting expert but never introduced as evidence.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said today there was "no foundation" to a report from Boston that wood believed similar to that in the Lindergh kidnap ladder and handwriting similar to that on the ransom notes had been found.

W. G. WINDHURST, 65, DRUGGIST HERE, DIES

Illness of Three Weeks Fatal to Veteran Marion Business Man.

William G. Windhurst, 65, operator of the Waldorf pharmacy for more than 35 years, died last night at 6:15 at his home at 204 East Center street.

Mr. Windhurst had been in failing health for several months and three weeks ago was forced to leave his store at 145 East Center street.

Most of the 35 years Mr. Wind-hurst operated a pharmacy in Marion. The store was located at 130 South Main street. About a year ago the store was moved to the present location on East Center street.

Mr. Windhurst's hobby was collecting and dealing in stamps, a favorite pastime since boyhood. He was a member of the Marion Hobby club and was one of its most active members among the stamp collectors until his health became impaired.

For a time before coming to Marion Mr. Windhurst was a druggist in Cincinnati where he opened a store shortly after he was graduated from the Cincinnati College of Pharmacy.

Mrs. Windhurst expects to continue operating the East Center street store, she said today.

Mr. Windhurst was born May 8, 1870, in Ohio to Mr. and Mrs. William G. Windhurst who were actives of Germany. He was married in Columbus in 1896 to Miss Florence Fisher.

The widow is the only survivor.
A private funeral will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Marion Star office. Burial will be in the Marion Star office. Burial

LIBERALS SPLIT ON BORAH RACE

Norris, La Follette and Johnson Now Closely Affiliated with Roosevelt.

COUZENS MIGHT HELP HIM

Michigan Senator Has Cooled Toward Idahoan of Late, However.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—With Sen. Borah apparently considering the idea of running for president, politicians noted today that his Republican independent colleagues in the senate probably would be divided on such a candidacy.

"Three members of that little band in which Borah has been a leader for years," Senators Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, and Johnson of California, have become so closely affiliated with President Roosevelt that a break would be unlikely, political leaders contended.

These three have taken so little part in Republican affairs of late that they could probably give Borah small help even in a fight for the nomination. La Follette has left the party entirely and become a Progressive.

Backed by Roosevelt
President Roosevelt supported Johnson and La Follette in their last campaigns. After they had co-operated with him in 1932, Norris, who fought for Mr. Roosevelt in the last presidential race, already has his support for another term if he chooses to run.

Johnson and Borah patched up a feud of long standing last year and are now warm friends. But it is problematical what part Johnson will play in the next Republican convention.

From the other senate independents Borah might expect a little more help.

Sen. Couzens of Michigan, a semi-member of the group, once offered to finance a Borah presidential campaign, but has not been considered so friendly in recent years.
His support would not be an impossibility, however, politicians believed.

Split Also Economic
The split between Borah and his colleagues among the independents has not only been political, but in some cases economic. While they supported Roosevelt in 1932, he slandered the sidelines. Since that time, he has often broken with them in voting on new deal measures.

Sen. Nye of North Dakota, has continued in much the same category with Borah. His colleagues, Sen. Frazier, already has spoken up for Borah. Sen. Nor-beck of South Dakota, might also be a Borah supporter, observers believed.

Some of Borah's friends argued that even if some of the independent senators did not support Borah

OHIO BUSINESS GIRDS TO FIGHT TAX BILLS

Local Units Want Half of Sales Tax Revenue

City, County and Township Officials Claim Present 60-40 Distribution Inequitable.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25.—Local government officials asked the state legislature today for 50 per cent of the sales tax revenues for next year.

Appearing before the house taxation committee, city, county and township officials asserted the present distribution of 60 per cent to the schools and 40 per cent to local governments, and the contemplated distribution for next year of 70 per cent to schools and 30 per cent to local governments, are inequitable.

Urges Results Foreseen
The committee was told that unless the local governments are given half of the sales tax revenues next year, they will be in much worse financial condition than this year. Most local governments have large deficits.

Township trustees, through Joe Thomas, president of their organization, asked for 50 per cent of next year's sales tax revenues to meet the burden of relief, which will be turned back to them Dec. 1.
Thomas said the townships are given five per cent that 80 per cent of the 1340 townships will be able to take care of their relief problems.

All agreed the sales tax must be renewed for next year as an emergency measure to finance the schools, relief and local governments. George V. Sheridan, executive director of the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants, said the vendors believe the present system of prepaid tax receipts is the best method for collecting the tax. He urged its retention.

5 Per Cent for Township F. Thayer Wood, president of the Township Trustees Association of Township Trustees and Clerks, also urged that townships be given 50 per cent of the sales tax. He said townships now are without a dollar for hospital expenses.

CHESTERFIELD—A BLEND OF MILD RIPE HOME-GROWN AND AROMATIC TURKISH TOBACCO

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

"You mean that you and I will make the fourth hand," I said firmly. "If you think—"

"Ed is home," she said with finality. "There's always a light in that corner window when he comes in after supper and sits down there to read."

"You know your neighborhood," I commented.

"It's the only excitement we have," she laughed. And then we were turning in at the driveway of a typical New England farmstead with barns attached to the house.

because of the winter blizzard. Ned Gibbs sounded her horn in imperative signal.

Good With Them

A motherly-looking woman appeared in the doorway as Mrs. Gibbs opened the door and leaned from her car.

"May I borrow Ed for half an hour or thereabouts?" she said briskly. "We had an accident over at the camp—not serious, I hope—but I'm taking the stretcher over, and we need a fourth man."

"He'll be right out," the New England woman said, with characteristic brevity. In another minute her husband, a tall, thin, but powerfully muscled man, came through the doorway drawing on a heavy rubber as he came.

"It isn't Bob?" Mr. Shanklin asked in neighborly solicitude as she sent the car along.

"No," Mrs. Gibbs returned. "It's young Mr. Veritzen of Mrs. Graham's party. They all came up this afternoon and went fishing. Mr. Veritzen's boat tried to climb a rock he tried to get it off, and fell in striking his head in the process."

Boys Frightened

"Then of course he has to be carried from the boat," Mr. Shanklin said. "I'm glad I was at home."

"So am I," Mrs. Gibbs replied.

with emphasis. And no word more was spoken until we had reached the lighted space among the trees which marked our camp. We were barely out of the car when Katharine Williams and the small boys appeared in the doorway of the big camp. At sight of me, Junior and Roderick, with relief written on their faces, dashed to me and caught me in a tremendous hug.

"Oh, we were so scared, Mama!" Junior panted. "You didn't come back, and you didn't come back, and—why did you come back this way?"

"What happened to Mary?" Roderick demanded shrilly and with eyes filled with terror for his sister. "Where is she?"

"She's all right, Roderick," and I tightened my arm around the boy's quivering shoulders.

"Have any of you people eaten yet?" Nell Gibbs asked Katharine.

"Not yet, but—"

Give Instructions

"Then Mrs. Graham," our hostess said briskly, "suppose you take the boys Betty and Mr. Williams into the big cottage and see to your supper. My good neighbor here—she smiled at tall Ed Shanklin—"will build up the fire in the smaller camp and get the bed out into the big room near Mr. Katharine and I will get everything ready, including the hot drinks there's a stove in this cottage you know and we'll have the stretcher ready too. When I get things in trim come on over and see if you approve."

Oh! I do hope I'm not being too bossy, she said suddenly with a fascinating contrite little girl-look.

"Bob says I'm a living illustration of the bride-at-a-wedding and corpse-at-the-funeral complex."

I'm so glad you are! I said with smiling and genuine cordiality.

Now I can devote my whole attention to the supper and I know these boys must be ravenous. Come on boys! Coming with me Betty?

I must get the fish scales she said importantly fumbling in her mother's car. She emerged with the fish scales clasped in her arms while I looked at my son and my nephew wondering if without reminder from me they would put into practice the lessons in courtesy I have striven so hard to give them.

HARDIN COUNTY JOINS REFUNDER BILL FIGHT

Authorizes Expenditure of More Than $100 To Aid Counties in Court Test.

KENTON, Nov. 20—Hardin county commissioners have authorized expenditure of slightly more than $100 to aid 24 other counties in a court battle to declare the Armbruster-Lawrence road refund bill invalid.

If the Ohio supreme court rules that the law, setting aside 10 per cent of each county's share of the gasoline fuel tax for 10 years as a fund to retire outstanding road bonds, is illegal Hardin county will be the gainer by $131,000, County Auditor W. B. Wilson estimated. This county has no outstanding road bonds and therefore would lose the entire amount set aside by the state for retirement of bonds.

WINS MAIL CONTRACT
BUYRUS, Nov. 20—Lester Huseman of Chalfield has been awarded the contract for the star route mail service operating between Buyrus and Fostoria on his bid of $1,119. Postmaster Carl A. Brown announced today.

STREET REPAIR PROJECT APPLICATION IS SIGNED

Work Calls for Federal Expenditure of $94,457 and City Expense of $2,000.

A blanket street improvement and repair project calling for an expenditure of $94,457 in federal funds and $2,000 in city money will get under way in Marion within two weeks under the government's WPA program.

This was announced today by O. N. Essex, WPA engineer here, following the formal signing, late yesterday, of the application for the project by Service Director C. K. Mercer and City Auditor Frank Weber.

Another project, designed to improve storm water sewers in the East Side was still hanging fire pending an opinion by City Solicitor Theodore B. Ochs as to whether gasoline tax funds can be used for that purpose. If Ochs rules that they cannot, the project will be sidetracked until the newly elected council meets to allocate funds for the various city departments. At that time it is expected it will earmark an additional $2,500 to start the sewer job.

A third application, calling for an expenditure of $5,000 in city money and $80,000 in federal funds at the sewage disposal plant, was expected to be signed by Mercer and Weber late today or Wednesday morning. The application is now being prepared at WPA offices here.

Mr. Essex said he will send the application for the blanket street project to district WPA headquarters at Marietta today, and that it will be forwarded from there to state WPA headquarters in Columbus in a few days for final action. Approval of the application by district and state men is expected to be a routine matter, as the federal government approved the work early in October.

"We should be able to start work on the street program within two weeks," Mr. Essex said. He explained that he is prepared to put 250 men to work on the project—work that will continue six months or longer. Funds for the job already have been allocated by federal WPA authorities, and release of the project recommended by them. This was announced last Oct. 4.

The street project is regarded by WPA engineers as the type of job most adaptable to the speedy prosecution of the state WPA program. The street job was among $1,359,588 worth of projects submitted to the federal works progress administration Sept. 5 by Mr. Essex. It embraces a number of sub-projects ranging from repaving of streets with brick and repainting of manholes and catch basins to macadamizing various mud streets throughout the city.
